

The start of our Geography journey

Geography in Reception

- I can talk about what is shown on a simple map (buildings, mountains rivers, seas).
- I can talk about how life and environments in this country are similar or different to others (Kenya, China).
- I can describe a familiar route (journey to school or church) using positional language (next to, left, right, beside, opposite).
- I can explore the natural world around me (Woodland area, our village)
- I can talk about the animals that I find in my natural environment (pets, in nature, from a farm).
- I can explain how some places in our local area are special to members of the community (churches, shops, post office, park, monuments)
- I can talk about our local environment using knowledge I have (from observations, stories and maps)
